STERNER POLICY TOWARD STRIKES HARDING THREAT

President's Fourth of July Speech Taken as Indication

QUASH INDICTMENTS

Move Probable as Plan to Get Miners and Operators Together.

Marion, O., July 5.—A sterner policy than has yet characterized the government's attitude in the coal strike and the rail strike may swiftly follow the return of President Harding to Washington the latter part of the week, it was indicated today.

The president's pointed assertion in his Fourth of July speech that "a free American has the right to labor without any other's leave," and that "governments cannot tolerate any group dictation," following so closely upon General Pershing's vehement condemnation of the tragedies of the mine strike in Illinois, were taken today as indicating that Mr. Harding's patience with the present chaotic industrial situation is just about exhausted.

President Harding was not pleased with the adjournment of the mine conference to await his return to Washington. The attitude adopted by some of the coal operators that to negotiate a new contract with the miners brings them within the shadow of the federal court is regarded as an untenable one. The fact that the president himself called the conference and that four cabinet officers took part in the various capacities in its deliberations, constituted sufficient assurance, the president believes, that no court action would follow the successful termination of the strike by the old method of a national conference.

It is expected that the president will meet Attorney General Daugherty in Columbus tomorrow, when he starts the return trip to Washington.

It is possible that the government may move to quash the indictments now hanging over the heads of the operators and miners in order to remove the last vestige of excuse the warring factions have for not getting together.

It is not considered likely that the government will make any early move in the rail strike unless the railway labor board confesses itself unable to cope with the situation and throws the burden of action back to the executive branch of the government. President Harding believes that the problem is yet one for the labor board; that the board, in fact, is on trial, and the governmental steps should be held up until the board has been given every chance to win its own battle.

Meanwhile the president did not allow the increasingly menacing industrial situation today to interfere with his final day in Marion among "home folks." Another day of visiting and attending Marion's centennial celebration was on the program today.

The president's part in the centennial celebration was confined today to a review of the historical and American Legion parade, scheduled in the afternoon. Hanford MacNider, commander of the National Legion, and one of the most conspicuous advocates of a soldier bonus, will be on the same platform with him during the review and will speak later. Tonight Mr. Harding will attend a grand pageant portraying the history of Marion, written by Miss Eleanor Freeland, his old time neighbor on Mount Vernon Ave. Mrs. J. W. Freeland, also a neighbor, has written a centennial ode.

OHIO CANAL LANDS SHOULD BE SOLD REPORT DECLARES

Preference Recommended to Abutting Land Owners is Word.

Columbus, July 5.—Ohio canal lands, once waterways for a busy inland traffic, should be sold by the state. This recommendation is contained in a report made to the legislature by a joint legislative committee. The committee advises however that certain portions of the canal lands which might be valuable for hydraulic power, road crossing, fisheries, water supply or any other purpose benefiting the public be retained by the state. Preference in disposing of the canal lands should be shown to abutting land owners, the committee recommended.

State reservoirs should be retained by the state, the report advises. It further recommends that these bodies of water be "improved and kept in such repair as is necessary to make them at all times safe and serviceable to the public's recreational centers."

The committee which conducted a personal investigation of the canal lands, is composed of: Senators A. J. Atwood, Columbus; George E. Kryder, Henry County and Reps. John H. Chester, Paulding County; Oscar M. Hines, Tuscarawas and Fred Edgington, of Clermont County.

Whereabouts of Devalera Uncertain—Believe Escape Made.

Dublin, July 5.—(9:30)—Following a night long bombardment by free state artillery, the strongholds of the Republican irregulars were reduced to three buildings in Sackville street this morning. Shortly after 9 o'clock a lull set in and the firing died down. The irregulars had retired to the rear of the buildings still held by them. As the cannoneading ceased sniping became more active on both sides.

The exact whereabouts of Eamonn Devalera, commander in chief of the irregulars, was obscure. According to one report he escaped from the Gresham hotel through an underground passage to a boat on the Liffey river.

Another report had it that Devalera, Cathal Brugha, Austin Stack, Harry Boland and the countess Markiewicz were all trapped in the rebel stronghold in Sackville street.

M. OF W. UNIONS REFUSE TO AID IN THE WALKOUT

Labor Board Instrumental In Preventing New Crisis.

OTHERS WILL FOLLOW

Adjustment of Grievances is Basis of Withholding Strike Orders.

Chicago, July 5.—Ranks of the striking railroad shopmen were holding firm, according to all reports here today, as the strike entered its fifth day. Refusal of the brotherhood of maintenance of way men to join in the walkout, it was indicated, will make no difference in the plans of the shopmen.

The decision of the maintenance of way men not to strike, however, made it evident that the shop crafts unions will have to fight their own battle. It was generally believed today that the clerks, signal men, telegraphers and stationary firemen and others would follow the trackmen in their decision to withhold strike action at this time.

B. M. Jewell, president of the railway employees' department of the American Federation of Labor, remained unchanged in his declaration that the strike will be fought to a finish and that the battle is between the railroads and the men with the United States railroads and the men with the United States railway labor board a negligent factor.

Despite Jewell's stand with reference to the labor board, it was generally believed today that it was the influence of the board that prevented 400,000 maintenance of way men from joining in the walkout. The decision of the trackmen to remain at work came after a day of conferences between executives of that union and members of the labor board. Conferences were held between the trackmen's executives and leaders of the shop crafts.

The basis upon which the trackmen withheld strike orders that were prepared and probably would have been sent out today, includes according to E. F. Grable, head of the brotherhood, a plan for an immediate request of the carriers for adjustment of all grievances, including revision of the wage scale and the promise of prompt consideration by the labor board of all disputes which cannot be settled by direct negotiations with the carriers. The trackmen continue work under the July 1 wage award under protest with the understanding that any readjustments in this wage scale will be made retroactive to July 1. The labor board will be asked to issue an immediate ruling absolving the trackmen of the necessity of performing the work of any striking employees.

Credit for persuading the trackmen not to join in the walkout is given Ben W. Hooper, chairman of the labor board and W. L. McMennimen, a member of the labor group.

Railroads for the most part reported continuation of normal traffic conditions with no curtailment of service because of the strike. Union officials admitted no serious effects had followed the walkout as yet but declared the effect of the strike would begin to be felt in a few days. They predicted thousands of others workers would join in the strike before long.

Main Distillery of Bootleggers Revealed Police Now Believe

New York, July 5.—Exploding with a roar that could be heard for miles and breaking windows for blocks in the vicinity a 100 gallon still, one of a battery of seven housed in a ware house in Forty Second street, Brooklyn, blew up today, throwing the nearby Italian neighborhood into a panic.

The explosion disclosed to the police what they believed to be the main distillery of bootleggers who have been flooding Brooklyn with hooch.

The explosion shook the whole block, leading to rumors that a black hand bomb had been set off. The mob of terrified Italians surging about the warehouse became so disorderly that police reserves had to be called out to disperse them.

A spectator told the police he had seen five men rush from the warehouse, jump into a waiting automobile and speed away. Fire followed the blast but soon was extinguished.

Charges Fraud In Sale Of German Dye Patents

Senator King, of Utah, Declares Forty Five Hundred Such Patents Valued at Millions of Dollars Turned Over at $250,000.

Washington, July 5.—The government's first move in carrying out President Harding's order for the return of the millions of dollars worth of German dye patents sold to the Chemical Foundation during the war will be the filing of a suit in equity against the foundation if officials of the organization refuse to comply with a formal request to restore control of the property to the U. S.

His announcement was made today by Colonel Thomas W. Miller, the alien property custodian, who declared the department of justice would move swiftly against the Chemical Foundation as directed by the president.

Washington, July 5.—Forty-five hundred German dye patents, valued at millions of dollars, were turned over to the Chemical Foundation for $250,000 after their seizure by the government during the war, it was declared today by Senator King, Democrat of Utah.

Charging fraud was perpetrated upon their original owners in the sale of these patents, King praised the action of President Harding in ordering federal proceedings to compel restoration of the patents, trademarks and other property seized from German aliens during the Wilson administration.

King said the alien property custodian's office during Wilson's tenure had seized and "sold the patents for a grossly inadequate consideration to a corporation, the officers of which in the main were government employees and connected with the alien property custodian's office."

"President Harding's action in directing proceedings by the attorney general against the Chemical Foundation is eminently proper," said King.

USE NIGHT FORCE ON WORK

Bucyrus, July 5.—Philip Freshwater, of the firm of E. A. Freshwater and son, who is directing the company's contract on paving the seven miles of the Scioto trail south of Bucyrus to the Marion county line, is using a night force on the contract.

The highway department ordered the Freshwater company to relay part of the paving owing to the cement work not being up to specification and the paved road for two miles had to be taken up.

The asphalt used in paving the bridge is so tenacious in the day time that it is difficult to remove, and can be more readily removed in the cool of the nights, so a night force has been placed at work cleaning the brick on the two miles of paving that had to be torn up and relaid according to specifications.

MORE TYPHOID CASES BELIEVED FOUND

About five cases of what appears to be typhoid fever have come to the attention of local authorities, who are investigating the nature of the malady and the cause. No definite conclusion has been reached as to whether the disease is typhoid, although all cases found have shown many ear marks of the malady, according to local physicians.

Several probable cases have been found in the city in the vicinity of West Second Street, below West Street but physicians have not made as to the nature of the attacks. Some local doctors Wednesday were inclined to blame the water supply which however was found pure by state authorities in a recent investigation. Further steps will be taken in ascertaining the cause and nature of the epidemic. Dr. Grube was out of the city Wednesday and could not be reached.

THE RIGHT TO STRIKE.

When does the strike cease to be a means of defense and begin to be a means of extortion? That is one of the most important questions now before the American people, and a question that must soon be answered. Whatever faults we as a people may possess or whatever virtues we may lack, all our critics agree that we are not only fair but generous. We permit the weak to use means in their own defense that we will not permit the strong to use as a means of aggression. No right-thinking person ever did believe or ever will believe that a strike is a good thing in itself, any more than such a person can think that war is a good thing in itself. There are many who are willing to support either a strike or a war when it is a measure of defense, but not when it is a measure of aggression.

The only people who really need to use the strike as a measure of defense are those who cannot get a living wage by the peaceful method of voluntary agreement with their employers; in other words, by bargaining. Americans are very patient when such workers resort to a strike. But when people who are prospering under the method of voluntary agreement begin to use force as a means to attain still greater prosperity they are likely to find public sentiment against them. They may devise all sorts of arguments to warrant their action, but so long as we have a public conscience that will justify our existence as a free people the public mind will remain clear upon the real issue.

How prosperous does any group or class have to be before it loses its right to strike? It would be difficult to draw the line exactly, but it is evident that any group or class has passed that line when it is as prosperous as the majority of the citizens of the country. When that majority see that a special class that is more prosperous than they themselves are is trying to extort still greater prosperity by violence, or even by the mildest kind of intimidation, they cannot be expected to lend much moral support to the attempt. In fact, when considerable numbers regard a given occupation as more attractive than their own—so much more attractive that they would be glad to exchange places with anyone in that occupation—they are more likely than not to represent the effort of an organization that controls the occupation to keep them out. If, besides trying to keep them out the organization resorts to a strike to gain still further advantages for its members, the resentment against it will increase. Those persons outside the organization who see that its members are already more prosperous than they themselves are may be expected to turn against the organization. There are close students of the labor-union situation who think that those unions which overreach themselves in that way are preparing their own destruction.—Youth's Companion.

REBUILT NEWSPAPERS.

A Wisconsin engineer announces the discovery of a process by which the ink can be removed from newspapers and the paper be made over into newsprint as good as ever. The process is already in practical use, he says. One mill, operating commercially, has remade 1,500 tons of old newspapers, and the product has been accepted by publishers as standard.

Here is a piece of conservation worth while. There are 2,200,000 tons of newsprint used annually in this country, and nearly all of it has become heretofore total loss after the papers were read. If, as it is reported, one-third of that paper can be used over again, there should be a considerable saving in the price of print paper, which is one of the biggest factors in the publishing business.

Still more important is the effect on the nation's timber supply. All of this paper is made from wood pulp, and anything that makes it go farther postpones the depletion of American forests.

AN ALLEGORY.

Summer is a good season for fairy tales.

Once upon a time there was a great round world whose people had discovered a kind of little brown pills whose effect made them happy, carefree and forgetful of their troubles. Taken to excess, the little brown pills had a very distressing effect of lowering the morals and finally inducing unconsciousness. Taken in small amounts over a long time, they broke down mind and body, leaving the soul no tools to function with.

One might think the poison pills would have been forbidden by law soon after their discovery, but such was the stupidity of these people that they were willing to take all the dreadful consequences rather than lose that feeling of ease and freedom from care produced in the first few minutes after taking.

Finally one nation was brave enough to break away from the little brown pills. It made a law that they were not to be made or sold or imported within its confines.

Most of the people were wise and good and kept the law. But a few thousands were foolish and bad and always trying to break it, and they made a loud noise.

This nation owned ships. And the ships of other nations were allowed to sell the little brown pills, so some people preferred to ride on the foreign ships.

And the man who was boss of the wise nation's ships said if they couldn't be allowed to sell little brown poison pills, the other ships would get the trade.

And on that funny planet people supposed to have brains are still disputing as to whether it is better to encourage the selling of poison pills which bring disease, death, poverty and all kinds of misery, or to lose a little temporary trade.

Glass-lined milk carts are used to convey milk from Ohio towns to Pittsburgh, Pa. The glass lining used is the result of a special process and is so well insulated that the temperature of the milk drops only 1½ degrees during an eight-hour run on a summer's day.

"Blue Laws" are so stringent in Des Moines, Iowa, that proprietors of cigar stores who keep their shops open on Sundays will be subject to arrest. This move against the cigar store men is believed to have been brought about by shoe-shining merchants, who were forced to close their stands on Sunday.

Of the leading cargoes handled in the Panama Canal in 1921, moving from the Atlantic to the Pacific Ocean, crude oil heads the list with 900,410 tons. Other commodities in their order are: Manufactures of iron and steel, 697,210; coal, 539,510; refined oil, 461,085; cotton, 196,329, and sulphur, $108,415.

WHO THEN IS GOING TO DO THE DECIDING?

1902--Twenty Years Ago--1922

On Tuesday and Wednesday of next week the members of the Golf Club will enjoy their first tournament. Arrangements are now being made by a special committee and every endeavor will be made to have several successful events.

The Wickersham House at

Jamestown, which is soon to be opened to the public, after having been closed for a couple of months for repairs, will be one of the handsomest little hosteries in the state.

Wilberforce has a great many visitors this summer and they are enjoying the quiet and beauty of the little city in the woods.

God. Some say 'believe in the Lord Jesus Christ and ye shall be saved,' but the test includes the importance of repenting and forsaking evil ways, to win forgiveness.

"This was the message delivered by Miss Edna M. Banning of Cleveland, Tuesday night at the Nazarene Church where she is conducting a series of revival meetings.

Five persons responded to the call for converts at the Tuesday evening meeting; twenty-four persons being received since the revival began.

Services Wednesday evening will begin at seven-thirty o'clock. Free services will be conducted Sunday, at ten-thirty in the morning, at 2:30 and 7:30 in the afternoon and evening.

Today's Talk

by George Matthew Adams

ARROWS

That which we send out is what tells other people of our sort and kind.

I like to think of deeds as arrows sent out on journeys. And your thoughts may be arrows that will travel around the world and into thousands of hearts.

You may know where the arrow came from that has helped you or cheered you, but you but you will have gained an inspiration for personal service that will make it possible for you to send out arrows, too.

The teacher in the classroom little

I have in mind a teacher who taught character and kindness and the high courage of living very much like he did mathematics. I soon forgot his mathematics, but his words of occasionally dropped wisdom lodged within me and have stayed there throughout the years.

We never know when we are sending out an arrow—and many times we are not aware that the arrow sent may wound instead of inspire and help.

I think that our arrows should be sent out with a braver that they may lodge "in the heart of a friend," or prospective friend.

Perhaps some will go far to some hospital where there is much pain and patience—and there take out its journey's end in soothing the pain and lifting the curtains of an otherwise sad and lonely heart.

Happiness is something to be learned quite as much as other things that add to the glory of life.

And we may learn happiness by sending it out to others. That is the surest way to get it.

Use your arrows! Float them through every air. Send them throughout the world.

Many of these arrows are sure to come back—with association and thankfulness attached to their lips.

What a responsibility we have in handling our influence.

SAYS REPENTANCE NECESSARY TODAY

"We are living in the day and age when people think that repentance is not required, but how can men and women get right with God, with out confessing and repenting their sins? It is impossible to be saved and not the willing to forsake sin and follow Kidney Pills."

Leonard Jones, car inspector,

Horne Ave., Xenia, gave the following statement Aug. 2, 1917: "Heavy lifting and working in a cramped position while repairing cars brought on lumbago. I was stiff and lame across the small of my back. After I had worked in a cramped position for a few minutes I could hardly straighten up. I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills and began to use them. They certainly proved to be the medicine I needed for I began to get better immediately and after using a few boxes was rid of this attack. Since then I have resorted to Doan's at the first symptom of lumbago and they quickly relieve it."

On Aug. 15, 1921, Mr. Jones confirmed the above statement by saying: "Doan's deserve the highest praise I can give them as they absolutely cured me of kidney trouble some years ago."

USE NIGHT FORCE ON WORK

Bucyrus, July 5.—Philip Freshwater, of the firm of E. A. Freshwater and son, who is directing the company's contract on paving the seven miles of the Scioto trail south of Bucyrus to the Marion county line, is using a night force on the contract. The state highway department ordered the Freshwater company to relay part of the paving owing to the center work not being up to specification and the paved road for two miles had to be taken up.

The asphalt used is so tenacious in the day time that it is difficult to remove, and can be more readily removed in the cool of the nights, so a night force has been placed at work cleaning the brick on the two miles of paving that had to be torn up and relaid according to specifications.

O. S. & S. O. HOME COMING BIGGEST IN HISTORY GETS UNDER WAY TUESDAY; SPRINGFIELD MAN ELECTED PRESIDENT

James H. Augustus, of Springfield was elected president of the Ex-Pupils' Association of the Ohio Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans Home, at the business meeting Wednesday morning at the annual reunion and homecoming being held at the home.

Mr. Augustus will succeed Isaac Thrasher, Newport, Ky., who is acting president this year for Frank H. Akers, of Chicago, who was unable to be present, and who has served the Association as president of his own re-election to the office.

Dr. George H. Lammpe, of Cincinnati, present vice president was re-elected to that office after he had been defeated as a candidate before the meeting for the presidency. H. L. LeFevere of Springfield, was elected second vice president to succeed Wilbur Hart; Mrs. Dakin Howard, of Springfield, was elected corresponding secretary to succeed O. W. Patterson and Miss Grace Shroades, of Cincinnati, and Olive H. DeVore, of Leipsic, were re-elected to their offices of recording secretary and treasurer, respectively.

The now executive committee to serve for a year, will be composed of the president of the organization, J. H. Augustus, former president, Ike Thrasher, of Newport, Ky., Ed. W. Hughes, of Columbus, Mrs. Nellie Smith Carmen, of Lancaster, who is chairman of the committee, and William Kenuhl, of Chicago. Mrs. Smith, Mr. Hughes and Mr. Augustus are at present members, while the only present member to be succeeded is A. W. Hudson. The president appoints the other committees for the annual reunion.

With a total of 467 members registered Wednesday, the Association is enjoying the biggest attendance in its history, of "exes." The reunion began Tuesday morning with the reception and registration of ex-pupils, all of whom were provided with the official badges which gives them entire at all reunion functions and at the dining room. In the afternoon children's games were enjoyed by the many youngsters ex-pupils brought with them, and Tuesday evening an informal dance was held on the especially constructed platform on the lawn in front of the Administration Building.

Tag Day for the benefit of the proposed Memorial Building to be erected at the Home, by ex-pupils, was the principal feature of the Wednesday morning program. Led by Acting President Thrasher and the Home Cadet Band, ex-pupils marched into the center of Xenia, where they took possession of the streets and invaded offices and business houses, in the interests of the building fund. No pedestrian was at peace until he became immune by purchasing a tag and displaying it prominently. Plans for a beautiful memorial building have been prepared for several years while the fund with which to construct the building has been steadily growing.

The "Tag Day" program followed the business session at which the officers were elected. Adult games and contests were also on tap for the morning amusement. Wednesday afternoon the annual memorial services for the departed ex-pupils and members of the Association were held in the Home Chapel. Baseball was also featured on the program for Wednesday afternoon, and the annual banquet, which is the biggest function of reunion week, and to which many outside guests are invited annually is scheduled for 6:30 o'clock Wednesday evening. The banquet will be followed by an informal dance.

Another business session of the association will be held Thursday morning, followed by games and contests. The annual official picture of the home comers will be taken in the afternoon and a vaudeville program will be given from one to two o'clock.

Dr. George H. Lammpe, of Cincinnati, present vice president was re-elected to that office after he had been defeated as a candidate before the meeting for the presidency. H. L. LeFevere of Springfield, was elected second vice president to succeed Wilbur Hart; Mrs. Dakin Howard, of Springfield, was elected corresponding secretary to succeed O. W. Patterson and Miss Grace Shroades, of Cincinnati, and Olive H. DeVore, of Leipsic, were re-elected to their offices of recording secretary and treasurer, respectively.

Several probable cases have been found in the city in the vicinity of West Second Street, below West Street but physicians have not made any as to the nature of the attacks.

Som local doctors Wednesday were inclined to blame the water supply which however was found pure by state authorities in a recent investigation.

Among the distinguished visitors at the reunion this year, is Ed W. Hughes, of Columbus, candidate for the Republican nomination for secretary of state who annually takes part in the reunion celebration. Mr. Hughes is an "ex" of Cottage 16, being admitted from Blanchedale, and learned the tailor trade while at the Home. He has since been in newspaper work and evangelistic work, and for a number of years has been in politics in Columbus, during which time he has been instrumental in influencing much beneficial legislation for the Home. He is at present parliamentarian and assistant clerk of the House of Representatives, and is the author of a book on parliamentary procedure that has been adopted as a guide by more than half of the states of the Union.

MORE TYPHOID CASES BELIEVED FOUND

About five cases of what appears to be typhoid fever have come to the attention of local authorities, who are investigating the nature of the malady and the cause. No definite conclusion has been reached as to whether the disease is typhoid, although all cases found have shown many early marks of the malady, according to local physicians.

Several probable cases have been found in the city in the vicinity of West Second Street, below West Street but physicians have not made any as to the nature of the attacks.

DIP INTO GENERAL REVENUE FUND TO MEET BONUS CLAIMS

Columbus, July 5.—By unanimous vote of both houses, the general assembly in a one-day session late Monday appropriated from the general revenue fund $7,500,000 to replenish the $25,000,000 soldier bonus fund voted by the people at the November election last fall. The money will be available in 90 days.

The legislature came here thinking they were to be called on to submit a supplemental bond issue for vote at the August primaries. Upon the suggestion of State Auditor Tracy, however, who called attention to the $10,000,000 balance in the general revenue fund, Governor Davis sent a new message to the assembly asking that the money be appropriated instead of raised by another bond issue.

Tracy, Davis and Republican members of the assembly gave the reorganization system credit for this unusually large balance in the treasury.

While voting for the appropriation, Senator Arthur H. Day, Cleveland, author of the original bonus legislation and candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor, questioned the advisability of this question to the voters in the primary method and urged submission of the primaries. He pointed out the possibility of the bill being attacked in the courts and delay due to litigation. He said the bonus commission still has about $5,000,000 with which to pay compensation and that the same plan would be to have the voters authorize an additional bond issue.

Senator McCoy, Mahoning County a world war veteran, said he voted for the bill under protest because he was apprehensive of what might happen.

American Legion officials were surprised but not displeased over the change in the method of providing the funds.

The bill will not become effective for 90 days as it was not made an emergency. In the meantime it is subject to referendum, but legislators were agreed that there was little likelihood of an attack from this angle and several members who spoke on the bill said they did not fear an attack in the courts on the constitutionality of the action.

State funds which are made available for payment of the soldiers bonus are now on deposit in various banks at an average of about 4.7 percent interest. The money will be withdrawn by the bonus commission as needed.

The Senate unanimously adopted a resolution offered by Senator Day calling upon the sinking fund commission and the director of the bonus fund to immediately give publication throughout the state of the amount of money disbursed and the number of claims settled and to publish monthly statements. The resolution urges the commission to expedite the payment of unpaid claims.

AMERICANIZATION NEED SEEN BY FESS

Westerville, O., July 5.—Declaring that "we may be compelled to forbid by drastic legislation any or all aliens from verbally assaulting our government on any occasion," Congressman S. D. Fess, candidate for the Republican nomination for U. S. Senator asserted in an address here yesterday and country must give more attention to an Americanization program.

"Some of us, now are considering the necessity of requiring all discussion in forum or press where governmental questions are concerned to be carried on in the English language and in the presence of a government official," he continued. "However the greatest question is the Americanization of the American who assaults his country's fundamental institutions. There are such within our borders who are subject to deportation."

"Such a situation calls for united effort on the part of the people. The work cannot be done by legislation, it must be done by education."

"The chief concern is to open the way for every citizen to employ his talent of head, and heart to the best possible results for him and his country. The government's function here is to keep open the door of opportunity for profitable industry to avoid the suffering through unemployment."

This will not be done by governmental or rather political operation, nor will it be aided by too much interference with the laws of legitimate trade and industry.

CONGRESSMAN HURT WHEN PLANE CRASHES

Memphis, Tenn., July 5—Representative Herrick of Oklahoma, who left Memphis yesterday morning in an airplane for Perry, Okla., was slightly injured when his plane fell near Hamlin, a short distance from Lynne.

It was stated that Herrick's injuries were confined to bruises. A. G. Person, an aviator, also was slightly injured.

According to advice engine trouble developed and the plane was landed in a field near Hamlin. The trouble apparently had been remedied and the plane hopped off again but crashed into a tree and fell. The plane was wrecked.

V. S. A.:—The preparations you mention are made from dyes and some henna, which fact often confuses people so they do not realize that they are really having their hair dyed, but the henna contributes little beyond the word.

All that you can do is to be patient until nature restores your hair to its natural shade. After about a month, the deeper shades will have bleached out and it will not look so artificial. The hair will then begin to show its gloss and lose its deadened appearance. The worst will then be over, and if you want to hasten the recovery, cut off as much of the length as you can spare.

THE RIGHT TO STRIKE.

When does the strike cease to be a means of defense and begin to be a means of extortion? That is one of the most important questions now before the American people, and a question that must soon be answered. Whatever faults we as a people may possess or whatever virtues we may lack, all our critics agree that we are not only fair but generous. We permit the weak to use means in their own defense that we will not permit the strong to use as a means of aggression. No right-thinking person ever did believe or ever will believe that a strike is a good thing in itself, any more than such a person can think that war is a good thing in itself. There are many who are willing to support either a strike or a war when it is a measure of defense, but not when it is a measure of aggression.

The only people who really need to use the strike as a measure of defense are those who cannot get a living wage by the peaceful method of voluntary agreement with their employers; in other words, by bargaining. Americans are very patient when such workers resort to a strike. But when people who are prospering under the method of voluntary agreement begin to use force as a means to attain still greater prosperity they are likely to find public sentiment against them. They may devise all sorts of arguments to warrant their action, but so long as we have a public conscience that will justify our existence as a free people the public mind will remain clear upon the real issue.

How prosperous does any group or class have to be before it loses its right to strike? It would be difficult to draw the line exactly, but it is evident that any group or class has passed that line when it is as prosperous as the majority of the citizens of the country. When that majority see that a special class that is more prosperous than they themselves are is trying to extort still greater prosperity by violence, or even by the mildest kind of intimidation, they cannot be expected to lend much moral support to the attempt. In fact, when considerable numbers regard a given occupation as more attractive than their own—so much more attractive that they would be glad to exchange places with anyone in that occupation—they are more likely than not to represent the effort of an organization that controls the occupation to keep them out. If, besides trying to keep them out the organization resorts to a strike to gain still further advantages for its members, the resentment against it will increase. Those persons outside the organization who see that its members are already more prosperous than they themselves are may be expected to turn against the organization. There are close students of the labor-union situation who think that those unions which overreach themselves in that way are preparing their own destruction.—Youth's Companion.

REBUILT NEWSPAPERS.

A Wisconsin engineer announces the discovery of a process by which the ink can be removed from newspapers and the paper be made over into newsprint as good as ever. The process is already in practical use, he says. One mill, operating commercially, has remade 1,500 tons of old newspapers, and the product has been accepted by publishers as standard.

Here is a piece of conservation worth while. There are 2,200,000 tons of newsprint used annually in this country, and nearly all of it has become heretofore a total loss after the papers were read. If, as is reported, one-third of that paper can be used over again, there should be a considerable saving in the price of print paper, which is one of the biggest factors in the publishing business.

Still more important is the effect on the nation's timber supply. All of this paper is made from wood pulp, and anything that makes it go farther postpones the depletion of American forests.

AN ALLEGORY.

Summer is a good season for fairy tales.

Once upon a time there was a great round world whose people had discovered a kind of little brown pills whose effect made them happy, carefree and forgetful of their troubles. Taken to excess, the little brown pills had a very distressing effect of lowering the morals and finally inducing unconsciousness. Taken in small amounts over a long time, they broke down mind and body, leaving the soul no tools to function with.

One might think the poison pills would have been forbidden by law soon after their discovery, but such was the stupidity of these people that they were willing to take all the dreadful consequences rather than lose that feeling of ease and freedom from care produced in the first few minutes after taking.

Finally one nation was brave enough to break away from the little brown pills. It made a law that they were not to be made or sold or imported within its confines.

Most of the people were wise and good and kept the law. But a few thousands were foolish and bad and always trying to break it, and they made a loud noise.

This nation owned ships. And the ships of other nations were allowed to sell the little brown pills, so some people preferred to ride on the foreign ships.

And the man who was boss of the wise nation's ships said if they couldn't be allowed to sell little brown poison pills, the other ships would get the trade.

And on that funny planet people supposed to have brains are still disputing as to whether it is better to encourage the selling of poison pills which bring disease, death, poverty and all kinds of misery, or to lose a little temporary trade.

Glass-lined milk carts are used to convey milk from Ohio towns to Pittsburgh, Pa. The glass lining used is the result of a special process and is so well insulated that the temperature of the milk drops only 1½ degrees during an eight-hour run an a summer's day.

"Blue Laws" are so stringent in Des Moines, Iowa, that proprietors of cigar stores who keep their shops open on Sundays will be subject to arrest. This move against the cigar store men is believed to have been brought about by shoe-shining merchants, who were forced to close their stands on Sunday.

Of the leading cargoes handled in the Panama Canal in 1921, moving from the Atlantic to the Pacific Ocean, crude oil heads the list with 900,410 tons. Other commodities in their order are: Manufactures of iron and steel, 697,210; coal, 539,510; refined oil, 461,085; cotton, 196,329, and sulphur, $108,415.

God. Some say 'believe in the Lord Jesus Christ and ye shall be saved,' but the test includes the importance of repenting and forsaking evil ways, to win forgiveness.

"This was the message delivered by Miss Edna M. Banning of Cleveland, Tuesday night at the Nazarene church where she is conducting a series of revival meetings.

Five persons responded to the call for converts at the Tuesday evening meeting, twenty-four persons being received since the revival began.

Services Wednesday evening will begin at seven-thirty o'clock. Free services will be conducted Sunday, at 7:30 in the morning, at 2:30 and 7:30 in the afternoon and evening.

ARROWS

That which we send out is what others people of our sort and kind.

I like to think of deeds as arrows—sent out on journeys. And your thoughts may be arrows that will travel around the world and into thousands of hearts.

You may know where the arrow came from that has helped you or cheered you, but you but you will have gained an inspiration for personal service that will make it possible for you to send out arrows, too.

The teacher in the classroom little realizes the arrows he is dropping in the lives under instruction.

I have in mind a teacher who taught character and kindness and the high courage of living very much better than he did mathematics. I soon forgot his mathematics, but his words of occasionally dropped wisdom lodged within me and have stayed there throughout the years.

We never know when we are sending out an arrow—and many times we are not aware that the arrow sent may wound instead of inspire and help.

I think that our arrows should be sent out with a prayer that they may lodge "in the heart of a friend," or prospective friend.

Perhaps some will go far to some hospital where there is much pain and patience—and there take out its journey's end in soothing the pain and lifting the curtains of an otherwise sad and lonely heart.

Happiness is something to be learned quite as much as other things that add to the glory of living.

And we may learn happiness by sending it out to others. That is the surest way to get it.

Use your arrows! Float them through every air. Send them throughout the world.

Many of these arrows are sure to come back—with aspiration and thankfulness attached to their lips.

What a responsibility we have in handling our influence.

SAYS REPENTANCE NECESSARY TODAY

"We are living in the day and age when people think that repentance is not required, but how can men and women get right with God, with out confessing and repenting their sins. It is impossible to be saved and not be willing to forsake sin and follow

BLOTTCHES

BLACKHEADS are Embarrassing

Oh! how can I get rid of them and enjoy the glory of a clear skin?

Don't despair! S. S. S. will lead you into a world you probably have never known before,—a world of joy, where strong light and love are welcome, where spotted-faced embarrassment is no more!

S. S. S. makes the blood rich and pure, and when your blood is freed of impurities, your stubborn blottches, pimples, blackheads, acne, rash, tetter and skin eruptions are bound to disappear.

Miss Ethel Rose, 422 E. Water St., Fahey Post, N. Y., writes: "I was troubled with pimples on my face, neck and chest. I was advised to take S. S. S. I found it cleared up as it certainly purified my system and my complexion is now clear."

Any good drug store can supply you with S. S. S.

LOST LENORE.

Besides the sea I saunter, and long for Lost Lenore; I want her, oh, I want her, but she comes back no more. Here once we roamed together, when all the world was sane, and talked about the weather, the price of hay and grain. Then maidens were not flapping, and they were full of grace; you didn't see them yapping around the market place. They thought of love and marriage, of wreaths upon the brow, of riding in a carriage to church, to make a vow. And where is now the maiden who walked the shore with me? She chases voters, laden with hand-bills fierce to see. She's out electioneering, she wants a public snap, while modern dames are cheering, and all the flappers flap. She's making dippy speeches, she trots from door to door, and I can find no peaches along the sandy shore. The girls are all so busy! They leave no graft untried. I drive my old tin Lizzie, and no one wants a ride. And once the laughing friskers came round me where I sat, and poured sand in my whiskers and kicked holes through my hat. But now the girls are flapping or doing kindred chores, and I, an old man, napping, can't find my Lost Lenores.

COUNTRY CLUB IS THROGGED TUESDAY BY HOLIDAY CROWD

The Xenia Country Club proved a Mecca for a holiday crowd, Tuesday, when members thronged the golf links and tennis courts the greater part of the day. Ideal weather attracted large crowds all day, and the two golf tournaments, one for men and the other for women drew a good sized list of entrants, 27 men and 13 women competing.

John M. Davidson took the honors in the men's 18-hole handicap tournament with a net score of 65. Mr. Davidson was given a handicap of 24. E. R. Bryant and William Davidson tied for second place with net scores of 72. Mr. Bryant's handicap was 18 and Mr. Davidson's 20. A. H. Dyer took third place with a net of 75 playing under a handicap of 12. T. C. Long and J. K. Williamson tied for fourth place with net score of 76. Each had the same handicap of 24.

In the nine hole tournament for women, Mrs. W. C. Craig turned in low net score of 48, her handicap being 10. Mrs. J. L. Alman took second place with a net score of 51 handicap 6. Mrs. Oliver Belden and Mrs. C. E. Fisher tied for third place with net scores of 52. Mrs. Belden having a handicap of 15, and Mrs. Fisher none. Mrs. R. J. Kelly was fourth, net 58, handicap 3.

SMALL FIRE IS ONLY ONE OF DAY

Firemen contended with their first Fourth of July blaze in four years Tuesday afternoon.

The department was called to the home of Walter Davis, 24 Trumbull Street, at 12:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon when the roof of the house caught fire from sparks from fire crackers.

Several small holes were burned in the roof, it is said, firemen extinguishing the blaze with the chemicals. The loss was small.

As firemen always anticipate a busy day when fireworks are used by youngsters, the record of one in four years, is unusual.

FINE IN POLICE COURT

Leroy Chance and Lewis Lambert, were arrested Tuesday by Patrolman Simms, and Extra-Patrolman Taylor, on charges of plain drunk. Wilbur Donovan was arrested by Lieutenant of Police Mangan and Patrolman Jones on the same charge. Each was fined $10 and costs by Judge Smith in Police Court Wednesday morning.

The Markers

Public interest in the market has slackened, partly as a reflection of the season and partly due, no doubt, to the suspense arising out of labor difficulties. A sustained rise is improbable until the outcome of the railroad controversy is known and an end to the coal strike is in sight. The summer promises to be a period of dullness and irregularity.

The market is usually dull in the summer unless there are special reasons for activity. Through all the ups and downs it should be remembered that the promise of brisk industrial activity is, in the last analysis, the strongest basis for an extended rise.

GRAIN

Rapid changes in price will not surprise the trading element in wheat during the next month or so. The winter crop is "made", but the spring crop is entering its most critical period. Advices of black rust have come from Minnesota. What damage the crop suffers will depend on the weather. Dry weather complaints have supported corn and oats from time to time, and these markets, too, are largely influenced by the weather. Farmers are reported offering new wheat rather more sparing than was expected.

LIVESTOCK

The number of pigs produced in the corn belt states during the first half of 1922 will show an increase of 14.5 per cent over production the previous year, according to a survey completed by the department of Agriculture. A 49 per cent increase in fall farrowings is in prospect. The June hog run was heavy, but no June break occurred. Live mutton went recently to the lowest point of the season. A belief is expressed that no lower prices will develop. Seasonal spreads are developing.

WOOL

During several weeks of dullness the peak of prices in the wool market has probably been passed. The recent trend has been downward. No pronounced slump is anticipated, and a fairly stationary level of values is in prospect. Manufacturers are pretty well supplied with imported wools and wool from the new clip. The tariff is a matter of uncertainty, and a reduction of the rates proposed on wool would occasion no surprise. Buying in the West is less active than heretofore, largely because most of the clip has passed into dealers' or manufacturers' hands.

COTTON

Cotton bears enjoyed an inning when private estimates appeared putting condition at 70 to 74 per cent, increase in acreage at eight to nine per cent, and probable yield at from 10,000,000 to 11,500,000 bales. Progress of the crop has been quite encouraging. On the other hand, there is evidence of a revival in the British cotton goods industry and only medium-sized crops are expected in China, India, and Egypt. The carryover promises to be the smallest in years.

METALS

Production of pig iron is estimated to have increased 50 per cent since January 1. Stocks at merchant furnaces are not large and shipments are going forward rapidly. Iron makers express confidence in business for the remainder of the year. The steel mills are running at a high level.

AGRICULTURE

The livestock industry in the United States is slowly recovering without outside aid. Over in Australia the prostration following the war has been so complete the government has decided to subsidize

BRIDE-ELECT HONORED AT EVENING PARTY

Complimenting Miss Leola Latimer, whose marriage to Mr. J. William Foley, will take place July 11, Mrs. William R. Nash received a company of young women at her lovely country home on the Hook road, Monday evening.

An interesting feature of the evening was "kitchen shower" Miss Latimer receiving many useful gifts from the guests. Clever contests, arranged by Mrs. Nash, amused the guests during the evening, prizes being presented to the winners. A refreshment course was later served. Music and a social time were enjoyed during the remainder of the evening. An effective color scheme of yellow and white was carried out in the rooms of the Nash home.

HOME CULTURE CLUB MEMBERS PICNIC

Members of the Home Culture Club of Cedarville, and their families, numbering sixty-one people, picnicked at Charlton Mills, on the farm of Mr. Paul James, between Cedarville and Xenia, in celebration of Independence Day.

Games and contests were enjoyed during the afternoon, a delicious supper being served later in the evening. Fire works, and other sports amused the crowd during the evening.

Those from this city who attended the affair were, Mrs. George Winter and son Alfred, and Mr. and Mrs. J. Harry Nagley.

Baby's Sore Chafed Skin

The Cause of Untold Misery Nurse Tells How to Avoid It

Philadelphia, Pa.—"Sykes Comfort Powder has been used on this little boy with great success in keeping his skin free from chafing, scalding, rashes and soreness, which is the cause of so much misery among children. In my eleven years work as a nurse I have never found anything to equal Sykes Comfort Powder for this purpose."—Lottie E. Sloper, Nurse, 4011 Pine St., Philadelphia, Pa.

The reason Sykes Comfort Powder is so successful in healing and preventing chafing, scalding, rashes and skin irritations is because it contains six healing, antiseptic ingredients not found in ordinary talcums. Physicians and nurses call it "a Healing Wonder."

Soft Tires waste power

If your tires are not properly inflated you ride on rubber instead of air. Power is wasted, the life of the tires is shortened, and troubles occur which are often annoying and expensive. Test every tire regularly with a gauge—not with the hand or the eye—and keep them at the pressure named by the tire manufacturer.

Proper inflation of tires is one of a number of things which affect the mileage you get from a gallon of gasoline. Read about the others in that interesting, comprehensive booklet, "Gasoline." Free at Red Crown service stations and dealers.

NEW BUILDINGS AND IMPROVEMENTS TO BE READY WHEN FAIR OPENS AUGUST 1

New buildings and improvements and new departments with additions and enlargements to the old ones will be evidenced when the eighty-third annual Greene County Fair opens its four-day engagement at the Fairgrounds, August 1, 2, 3 and 4.

The new Art Hall, built to replace the old structure that was destroyed by fire recently, is a considerable improvement over the original building which had grown decrepit. The new building is of frame construction, with a cement floor and beamed ceiling eliminating the posts and other interior supports. It is 50 by 100 feet in dimensions, providing for 5,000 feet of floor space.

The Agricultural Society has also had a new fence building entirely around the race tract enclosure, besides the construction of two hog houses, each 60-feet in length, and the construction of a 50-foot addition to the automobile shed.

According to J. Robert Bryson, secretary, an attempt is being made to obtain midway concessions that are as clean as possible this year, eliminating the type of attractions that have drawn fire from many sources in the past. Several free attractions will also be booked, one of these being the J. J. Evans dog and pony circus, which will be staged on the race track between heats, each day. The Chamber of Commerce Band of this city, will play Thursday of the Fair, and the bands to furnish the music in the quarter stretch the other days have not been selected.

The usual speed program of nine races, will be held this year. C. M. Austin, of Bellbrook, member of the board in charge of the speed department, has had charge of that department for years, and he promises an interesting speed program. The program includes a 2:25 pace, a 2:22 trot and a 2:11 pace; on opening day; a 2:18 trot, a 2:17 pace and a 2:14 trot on Thursday and a 2:20 pace, 2:25 trot and 2:14 pace on get-away day. Purse for all events will be $350 and F. L. Johnson of this city will be starting judge.

The horse department, which is in charge of Jesse Townsley, will include a new department of saddle ponies and horses, to be exhibited Friday, August 4. Entries are to include saddle ponies, five-gaited saddle horses, three-gaited or more. With the increasing popularity of horse back riding, the new department is expected to attract considerable interest, and to draw a number of entries.

Two new breeds have been added to the cattle department of which L. B. Harner, is the member in charge. The new breeds, are Guernseys and Milking Shorthorns, hitherto not exhibited in the cattle class. Both will be exhibited Wednesday of the Fair, including bulls, cows, heifers calves. Other breeds and classes will be the same as usual in this department.

In the sheep department, Walter St. John makes his debut as head of that department, being the newly appointed member in charge. The breeds and classes will be the same as in the past. J. H. Lackey continues in charge of the swine department as in the past. A new classification will be used in this department this year, agreeing with the new state classification passed last winter. There will be two special classes in this department this year, a Poland China Special and a Duroc Special, $50 being offered in cash prizes, by the Poland China Breed Promotion Committee, and the Greene County Big Type Poland China Breeders' Association. The Greene County Agricultural Society and the Greene County Duroc Association. There will be no change in the poultry department, Thomas Faulkner remaining as the member in charge of this branch of exhibits.

Grant Miller is again in charge of the needle and miscellaneous work department, which draws its following from the women, the department being one of the largest taking in as it does all forms of fancy work, cooking and the Boys' and Girls' Club exhibits, which have grown to be an important part of the exhibits. The boys' and girls' work comes under the management of County Agent Ford S. Prince and County Superintendent of Schools H. C. Aultman. The amount of prizes offered in this class is $350. To this department there is also being added this year the Steer Calf Club, to be exhibited Thursday of the Fair. Members in charge are placed according to their classification, F. B. Turnbull, for Angus, M. R. Grinnell for Herefords and J. H. Hawkins for Shorthorns. The prize money in this new department comes from the following sources, the Greene County Agricultural Society $100; E. S. Kelly, Whitehall Farm, Yellow Springs, $20, and special prizes for the three best reports.

One of the men arrested in connection with the attack yesterday on Maximilian Harden, noted editor and political writer, is named Weichardt, the police announced today. Herr Harden was attacked late yesterday near his home in the runewald, a suburb of Berlin, and was taken to his home unconscious, suffering from five wounds in the head.

G. W. HOLVERSTOTT DIES AT AGE OF 95

George W. Holverstott, Xenia resident, died Monday afternoon at four thirty o'clock, death being caused by the infirmities of age. Mr. Holverstott was past ninety-five years of age.

He is survived by two sons, Albert Holverstott, and F. L. Holverstott, both of Xenia. Funeral services will be conducted Thursday at one o'clock, at the home of H. C. Holverstott, at 231 East Third street. Interment will be made at Beaver Cemetery.

POLICE IDENTIFY MAN'S ASSAILANTS

Berlin, July 5.—The police have definitely identified the assassins of Dr. Walter Rathenau, who was murdered June 24, they announced yesterday, the list containing one change from that first announced on June 28. The names on the police list are: Ernest Werner Techow, of Berlin, student, 24; Erwin Tern, former first lieutenant of marines, 23, and Hermann Wilibald Fischer, engineer, 26.

Of the three Techow, alleged to be the driver of the murder car, arrested near Frankfort-on-Oder, June 30, is so far the only one apprehended.

One of the men arrested in connection with the attack yesterday on Maximilian Harden, noted editor and political writer, is named Weichardt, the police announced today. Herr Harden was attacked late yesterday near his home in the runewald, a suburb of Berlin, and was taken to his home unconscious, suffering from five wounds in the head.

CONSTERNATION FOLLOWS ESCAPE OF TRUANT STORK

Cincinnati, July 5.—A stork escaped from the Cincinnati zoo Tuesday and flew innocently up over a negro settlement in Avondale, spreading consternation among the dusky women who saw him meant to light there. The zoo manager and his assistants arrived out of breath after the truant, to find things in a hubub and the women trying to "shoo" the long-legged visitor on his way.

"Take dat stork away from heah," one of them implored, "we done got too many chil'en now."

The stork was captured and carried back, the superstitious blacks shrinking from his presence as if the plague were passing. One of them later sprinkled ashes about the house where the bird landed, chanting to herself, "Dat stork done conjured dis here place, and I aims to break the spell." She finished her counter magic by nailing a rabbit's foot on the doorstop.

118 Kiddies in one block.

Recently a Chicago block boasted that it had more children than any other block in the world—seventy-six. Residents of Orthington Avenue, Chicago, laugh at the claim, for in their block, between Thirty-first and Thirty-second streets, there are 118 kiddies, who have formed their numbers in living numerals to back up their boast. Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Quail lead, with eight, the oldest of whom is fifteen.

FORTY IMPERILED BY BOMB BLAST

40 Imperiled by bomb.

Photograph shows the shattered front of a three story building in Pawtucket, R. I., occupied by strikebreakers and their wives. It is alleged the house was wrecked by a bomb thrown by sympathizers of the striking textile workers. Only one person was injured.

DENVER MAN CONFESSED MURDER

Orville J. Turley.

Orville J. Turley, "bushness chance" broker, of Denver, is under arrest for the brutal murder of Mrs. Emma Wise owner of a fashionable Capital Hill Lodging House there. Turley confessed according to the police that he lured Mrs. Wise to an unoccupied house in West Denver on the pretense of making an advantageous business deal for her, beat her with his fists, choked her to death with a rope around her neck and thrust her body into a furnace pipe. He is held on a murder charge, but it is thought he will enter an insanity plea.

HE BEATS THE RENT COLLECTORS

How to dodge rent collectors.

Joseph Johnson decided he was not going to pay profiteer landlords for a summer bungalow, so he purchased a trolley car that had outlived its usefulness, took it to Midland Beach, Staten Island, and New York harbor, spent less than $100 for all improvements and now has a very acceptable place to entertain his friends and live comfortably.

DIP INTO GENERAL REVENUE FUND TO MEET BONUS CLAIMS

Columbus, July 5.—By unanimous vote of both houses, the general assembly in a one-day session late Monday appropriated from the general revenue fund $7,500,000 to repatriate the $25,000,000 soldier bonus fund voted by the people at the November election last fall. The money will be available in 90 days.

The legislature came here thinking they were to be called on to submit a supplemental bond issue for vote at the August primaries. Upon the suggestion of State Auditor Tracy, however, who called attention to the $10,000,000 balance in the general revenue fund, Governor Davis sent a new message to the assembly asking that the money be appropriated instead of raised by another bond issue.

Treasury, Davis and Republican members of the assembly gave the reorganization system credit for this unusually large balance in the treasury.

While voting for the appropriation, Senator Arthur H. Day, Cleveland, author of the original bonus legislation and candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, questioned the advisability of this question to the voters in the primary method and urged submission of the measures. He pointed out the possibility of the bill being attacked in the courts and delay due to litigation. He said the bonus commission still has about $5,000,000 with which to pay compensation and that the same plan would be to have the voters authorize an additional bond issue.

Senator McCoy, Mahoning County a world war veteran, said he voted for the bill under protest because he was apprehensive of what might happen.

American Legion officials were surprised but not displeased over the change in the method of providing the funds.

The bill will not become effective for 90 days as it was not made an emergency. In the meantime it is subject to referendum, but legislators were agreed that there was little likelihood of an attack from this angle and several members who spoke on the bill said they did not fear an attack in the courts on the constitutionality of the action.

State funds which are made available for payment of the soldiers bonus are now on deposit in various banks at an average of about 4.7 per cent interest. The money will be withdrawn by the bonus commission as needed.

The senate unanimously adopted a resolution offered by Senator Day calling upon the sinking fund commission and the director of the bonus fund to immediately give publication throughout the state of the amount of money disbursed and the number of claims settled and to publish monthly statements. The resolution urges the commission to expedite the payment of unpaid claims.

AMERICANIZATION NEED SEEN BY FESS

Westerville, O., July 5.—Declaring "we may be compelled to forbear by drastic legislation any or all aliens from verbally assaulting our government on any occasion," Congressman S. D. Fess, candidate for the Republican nomination for U. S. Senator asserted in an address here yesterday and country must give more attention to an Americanization program.

"Some of us, now are considering the necessity of requiring all discussion in forum or press where governmental questions are concerned to be carried on in the English language and in the presence of a government official," he continued. "However the greatest question is the Americanization of the American who assaults his country's fundamental institutions. There are such within our borders who are subject to deportation."

"Such a situation calls for united effort on the part of the people. The work cannot be done by legislation, it must be done by education."

"The chief concern is to open the way for every citizen to employ his talent of head, and heart to the best possible results for him and his country. The government's function here is to keep open the door of opportunity for profitable industry to avoid the suffering through unemployment. This will not be done by governmental or rather political operation, nor will it be aided by too much interference with the laws of legitimate trade and industry."

CONGRESSMAN HURT WHEN PLANE CRASHES

Memphis, Tenn., July 5—Representative Herrick of Oklahoma, who left Memphis yesterday morning in an airplane for Perry, Okla., was slightly injured when his plane fell near Hamlin, a short distance from Lynne. It was stated that Herrick's injuries were confined to bruises. A. G. Person, an aviator, also was slightly injured.

According to advices engine trouble developed and the plane was landed in a field near Hamlin. The trouble apparently had been remedied and the plane hopped off again but crashed into a tree and fell. The plane was wrecked.

TELEPHONE PERSONALITY

One day last week we were talking about personality in letter writing, projecting something of oneself to a friend by the medium of paper and ink. Personality in letter is important and so is personality over the telephone. If you call a strange number and a disagreeable voice says: "hallo, hub, what do you want?" think of the disagreeable impression you immediately receive! That is one way, though not a very admirable one, of projecting personality.

How different from the impression received when a pleasant voice gives a courteous answer and you have the feeling of smiling good will at the other end of the wire. Most people do not know how to answer a telephone. The statement applies particularly to the young girls sitting at switchboards in our modern business offices. There may be quickness and efficiency behind the crisp, curt tones, but there is absolutely no personality and no feeling that this firm would go out of its way to be nice to you. In these modern days your home or your office is usually visited first by telephone. What sort of impression do you give out when you pick up the receiver?

I do not know which is worse, the voice which is crisp, curt and impersonal, or the voice which may mean to be pleasant enough but which lacks force and spirit. This lack of spirit is often due to nothing but the inability to throw the voice properly or to enunciate properly.

These are defects which can and should be overcome. If you put pleasantness and goodwill into your manner you will give a good

DROWNS WHILE RESCUING PAIR BEYOND DEPTH

Cincinnati, July 5—John Williams, 35, of Cincinnati, was drowned in the Little Miami River at Kings Mills, O., Tuesday afternoon when he went to the rescue of a man and a girl who had gone beyond their depths. Williams struggled with the pair until he got them to shallow water, then suddenly broke away as if strucken and floated out into the middle of the river where he sank. The body was recovered an hour later. Williams came to this city from Boyd's Creek, Tenn.

FOURTH PASSED IN QUIET MANNER IN XENIA TUESDAY

Fourth in recent years was in 1911 when the thermometer registered 107 degrees.

Mrs. Clara Watkins Gaines, chiropodist of Champaign, Ill., has returned home after a pleasant visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Watkins.

Mrs. Edward Lewis, Mrs. William Love, of Columbus, were Fourth of July guests of Mr. and Mrs. Elvia Sulinger, East Main street.

C. B. Hatchett was a guest at Tecumseh Park, over the Fourth.

COUNTRY CLUB IS THROGGED TUESDAY BY HOLIDAY CROWD

The Xenia Country Club proved a Mecca for a holiday crowd, Tuesday, when members thronged the golf links and tennis courts the greater part of the day. Ideal weather attracted large crowds all day, and the two golf tournaments, one for men and the other for women drew a good sized list of entrants, 27 men and 13 women competing.

John M. Davidson took the honors in the men's 18-hole handicap tournament with a net score of 65. Mr. Davidson was given a handicap of 24. E. R. Bryant and William Davidson tied for second place with net scores of 72. Mr. Bryant's handicap was 18 and Mr. Davidson's 20. A. H. Dyer took third place with a net of 75 playing under a handicap of 12. T. C. Long and J. K. Williamson tied for fourth place with net score of 76. Each had the same handicap of 24.

In the nine hole tournament for women, Mrs. W. C. Craig turned in low net score of 48; her handicap being 10. Mrs. J. L. Almar took second place with a net score of 51. handicap 6. Mrs. Dilver Belden and Mrs. C. E. Fisher tied for third place with net scores of 52. Mrs. Belden having a handicap of 15, and Mrs. Fisher none. Mrs. R. J. Kelly was fourth, net 58, handicap 3.

SMALL FIRE IS ONLY ONE OF DAY

Firemen contended with their first Fourth of July blaze in four years Tuesday afternoon.

The department was called to the home of Walter Davis, 24 Trumbull Street, at 12:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon when the roof of the house caught fire from sparks from fire crackers.

Several small holes were burned in the roof, it is said, firemen extinguishing the blaze with the chemicals. The loss was small.

As firemen always anticipate a busy day when fireworks are used by youngsters, the record of one in four years, is unusual.

FINE IN POLICE COURT

Leroy Chance and Lewis Lambert, were arrested Tuesday by Patrolman Simms, and Extra-Patrolman Taylor, on charges of plain drunk. Wilbur Donevan was arrested by Lieutenant of Police Mangan and Patrolman Jones on the same charge. Each was fined $10 and costs by Judge Smith in Police Court Wednesday morning.

The Markets

Public interest in the market has slackened, partly as a reflection of the season and partly due, no doubt, to the suspense arising out of labor difficulties. A sustained rise is improbable until the outcome of the railroad controversy is known and an end to the coal strike is in sight. The summer promises to be a period of dullness and irregularity. The market is usually dull in the summer unless there are special reasons for activity. Through all the ups and downs it should be remembered that the promise of brisk industrial activity is, in the last analysis, the strongest basis for an extended rise.

GRAIN

Rapid changes in price will not surprise the trading element in wheat during the next month or so. The winter crop is "made", but the spring crop is entering its most critical period.

Advices of black rust have come from Minnesota. What damage the crop suffers will depend on the weather.

Dry weather complaints have supported corn and oats from time to time, and these markets, too, are largely influenced by the weather.

Farmers are reported offering new wheat rather more sparing than was expected.

LIVESTOCK

The number of pigs produced in the corn belt states during the first half of 1922 will show an increase of 14.5 per cent over production the previous year, according to a survey completed by the department of Agriculture. A 49 per cent increase in fall fairings is in prospect. The June hog run was heavy, but no June break occurred. Live mutton went recently to the lowest point of the season. A belief is expressed that no lower prices will develop. Seasonal spreads are developing.

WOOL

During several weeks of dullness the peak of prices in the wool market has probably been passed. The recent trend has been downward. No pronounced slump is anticipated, and a fairly stationary level of values is in prospect. Manufacturers are pretty well supplied with imported wools and wool from the new clip. The tariff is a matter of uncertainty, and a reduction of the rates proposed on wool would occasion no surprise. Buying in the West is less active than heretofore, largely because most of the clip has passed into dealers' or manufacturers' hands.

BRIDE-ELECT HONORED AT EVENING PARTY

Complimenting Miss Leola Latimer, whose marriage to Mr. J. William Foley, will take place July 11, Mrs. William R. Nash received a company of young women at her lovely country home on the Hook road, Monday evening.

An interesting feature of the evening was a "kitchen shower." Miss Latimer receiving many useful gifts from the guests. Clever contests, arranged by Mrs. Nash, amused the guests during the evening, prizes being presented to the winners. A refreshment course was later served. Music and a social time were enjoyed during the remainder of the evening. An effective color scheme of yellow and white was carried out in the rooms of the Nash home.

HOME CULTURE CLUB MEMBERS PICNIC

Members of the Home Culture Club of Cedarville, and their families, numbering sixty-one people, picnicked at Charlton Mills, on the farm of Mr. Paul James, of Cedarville and Xenia, in celebration of Independence Day.

Games and contests were enjoyed during the afternoon, a delicious supper being served later in the evening. Fire works, and other sports amused the crowd during the evening.

Those from this city who attended the affair were, Mrs. George Winter and son Alfred, and Mr. and Mrs. J. Harry Nagley.

Soft Tires waste power

If your tires are not properly inflated you ride on rubber instead of air. Power is wasted, the life of the tires is shortened, and troubles occur which are often annoying and expensive. Test every tire regularly with a gauge — not with the hand or the eye — and keep them at the pressure named by the tire manufacturer.

Proper inflation of tires is one of a number of things which affect the mileage you get from a gallon of gasoline. Read about the others in that interesting, comprehensive booklet, "Gasoline." Free at Red Crown service stations and dealers.

ELECTRICS SPLIT DOUBLE HEADER AT PARK ON TUESDAY

The Bayliff Electrics split a double header with two Dayton teams as the Fourth of July attraction at the Washington St. Ball Park Tuesday, losing to the Dayton Westwoods in the opener by a 4 to 1 score, and winning from the Belmont Merchants 7 to 6 in the second encounter.

Bill Kontz, of Springfield, former Kenna Reserve hurler, was on the mound for the electricians in the first frames and his stings gave the visitors no end of trouble. Koontz struck out 10 of the opposing armful, and permitted but six hits. Placing their few hits well and taking advantage of a couple of costly errors, the visitors managed to come out on long end of the count.

The visitors scored first in the second, when after two were out, Evans was walked. He stole second, and scored when Shepp doubled to right. The visitors added another in the third. Burley was safe when Derrick nipped his grounder, with one out. House fanned but Burley scored when E. Owens dropped Smith's long fly to left.

Two more were added by the Westwoods in the fourth. Koontz allowed but three hits during the rest of the game and the locals played air tight ball. The electricians' lone run that saved them from a shut out came in the fourth stanza. Derrick was safe on a slow throw, and took second on a passed ball, but was nipped Shepp to Burley at third. M. Leahay walked and was safe at second on the double steal when Burley's attempt to double him at the keystone station went wild, Leahay taking third and scoring on Bocklet's single.

Shepp pitched masterly ball for the Westwoods, permitting but four hits, two of which came in the seventh in connection with a base on balls, but were fruitless.

The locals had a better edge in the second game, in which they defeated the Belmont team 7 to 6 in a seven inning contest. Anxious to get an early lead in the short contest, the locals hung up two counters in the initial frame.

The visitors added one in the fourth when Stockman was safe on an error and Pepper was safe when Bocklet dropped Cooper's assist on his roller. Stockman then scoring on a wild throw. The Belmont athletes added three more in the sixth.

The visitors added one in the fifth when Stockman was safe on an error and Pepper was safe when Bocklet dropped Cooper's assist on his roller. Stockman then scoring on a wild throw. The Belmont athletes added three more in the sixth.

The visitors tied it up at six, all in their half of the seventh. McMichael was safe on an error, and H. Green was safe when Bath's assist went wild. McMichael scored when Bocklet retired Powell unassisted and Stockman's single scored Greene, but Stockman was out when struck b y a batted ball. The locals won the game in their half of theinning. Bocklet was safe when Myers dropped his pop fly and stole second. Berger fanned, but F. Leahay broke up the ball game at this juncture with a double to left that scored Bocklet.

Styles BY LENORE

In the summertime one may as well not be a pleasant part of the landscape, thought this maiden, and so she wears this very smart two-piece costume of crepe marocain, the skirt white, the blouse orchid color. And a very practical outfit it is, for the same skirt may be used with several blouses in different materials—crepe for wear both in town and the country, wool jersey for seashore, and a dainty lace or Georgette blouse for dinner wear informally.

Attention is called to the cut of the blouse, which is designed with the fashionably low waistline, slightly bloused at the sides, and snugly fitted around the hips. The skirt is pleated only in the front.

KILLED BY TRAIN

Pittsburgh, Pa., July 5—Dr. F. L. Morrow, 32, of North Braddock, and Mrs. Josephine Wakeman, 44, of Port Perry, were killed early today when the automobile in which they were carrying James Shields to a hospital, was struck by a Baltimore and Ohio flyer at Port Perry. Shields had been beaten, shot and robbed by highwaymen and is in a serious condition.

NOODLES IN THE SUPPER MENU

I wonder how many of my Reader Friends serve noodles for supper? I know of no more delicious or nourishing supper dish than noodles served either with a plain cream sauce, an egg sauce, a cheese sauce, or a tomato sauce. The eggs in the noodles make this dish rich and substantial, and a well-balanced meal may be achieved by following this menu:

Egg Noodles with Sauce. Corn Muffins—Coca Diced, Sweetened Fruit Nut Cake.
Egg Noodles: Beat two eggs slightly and stir into them one teaspoon of salt. Then add enough flour to make a very stiff dough. Knead a little, and toss on a lightly floured board. Roll to the thickness of paste-board and let stand to dry, for 20 minutes. Then roll the thin sheet like a jelly-roll and slice this roll across, into strips one-half-inch wide. Boil these strips for 20 minutes in boiling salted water, drain, and serve mixed with one of the following sauces:

Plain Cream Noodle Sauce: Melt two tablespoons of butter in a saucepan and add to it, alternately, two tablespoons of flour and one cup of rich sweet milk. Season with one-fourth teaspoon of salt and a dash of pepper. Egg Noodle Sauce: Melt two tablespoons of butter and rub into it three tablespoons of flour, thinning the mixture with one cup of sweet milk. Season with one-fourth teaspoon of salt and a dash of pepper. Then stir in two hard-boiled eggs cut in thin slices.

Cheese Sauce for Noodles: Melt three tablespoons of butter, stir in four tablespoons of flour, two cups of sweet milk, one-half teaspoon of salt and, when this has boiled up for a moment, remove it from the range and add one cup of finely-chopped American cheese, stirring until the cheese melts or partly melts. Combine this sauce at once with the noodles.

Tomato Noodle Sauce: Press one and one-half cups of stewed tomato through a sieve and turn these into a saucepan with a small piece of onion, one-half teaspoon of salt and one whole clove. Let this cook for ten minutes. In another saucepan melt one heaping tablespoon of butter and rub into it one tablespoon of flour. Then add this flour and butter mixture to the tomato mixture and let simmer for four minutes. Strain and serve with the noodles in it.

In serving noodles in any of these four sauces, allow one cup of the sauce to two and one-half cups of the cooked noodles.

Noodles need not necessarily be cooked the day they are mixed and cut into strips. Instead, the uncooked

A Stenographer's Romance

BY JANE PHLEPS

NELLIE REBUKES A SUBWAY FLIRT

CHAPTER 9

Nellie was curiously naive in some ways, uncommonly sophisticated in others. Cora felt sure she would soon become invaluable if she got a romance, her quick grasp of things, her willingness to please, her determination to be in an office, all encouraged both Cora and Gladys into believing she would surely make good if she got a chance.

Gladys had spoken to Miss McBride, the woman who kept the agency, but had received little encouragement.

"Nowadays men don't want girls without experience," she told Gladys. "I could get around the references—from what you tell me of this girl, but not the lack of experience. Of course I will try to place her, but if I should succeed her wages will be very small at first."

"Get her anything you can," Gladys returned, "Miss Baker and I will help her out until she can earn enough to live on."

"You seem very fond of her."

"We are, both of us. She's the brightest little thing, and so pretty—too pretty Cora thinks. She's rather impudent too sometimes. If anyone says anything she doesn't like she gets back at them like lightning. But she's good, and won't stand any nonsense. She's had a hard life in a cheap boarding house where traveling men stopped, and has learned a lot of things about life by listening to their coarse talk.

But a girl who had to work as hard as she did, then teaches herself to use a typewriter all alone in a stuffy attic, is bound to get on we think."

"I'm getting interested in this protege of ours. You say Miss Baker has been teaching her for three months?"

"Yes, shorthand and spelling. The poor child can't spell at all. But she can now. I never saw anyone go in earnest as she is."

"Well, I will do my best, but don't ing them monkey faces at me? You should have heard the people laugh. He sneaked out at the next stop."

"I should think he would." Both girls laughed gayly. "Now tell us about the job. Everything! We are so anxious to hear all about it."

"Well, here goes!"

Tomorrow—Nellie Tells of Securing

DIDN'T HAVE THE HEART

Elyria, July 5.—"It was a lovely day and the pavement looked so nice that I guess I did walk 30 miles an hour," said pretty Miss Helen Van der Pyl, daughter of Dr. Nicholas Van Der Pyl, pastor of the United Church at Oberlin, who is attending an economic school in England. The police judge gave her the once over, tried to look in the eye, and muttered dis-

NEW BUILDINGS AND IMPROVEMENTS TO BE READY WHEN FAIR OPENS AUGUST 1

New buildings and improvements and new departments with additions and enlargements to the old ones, will be evidenced when the eighty-third annual Greene County Fair opens its four-day engagement at the Fairgrounds, August 1, 2, 3 and 4.

The new Art Hall, built to replace the old structure that was destroyed by fire recently, is a considerable improvement over the original building which had grown decrepit. The new building is of frame construction, with a cement floor and beamed ceiling eliminating the posts and other interior supports. It is 50 by 100 feet in dimensions, providing for 5,000 feet of floor space.

The Agricultural Society has also had a new fence building entirely around the race tract enclosure, besides the construction of two hog houses, each 60-feet in length, and the construction of a 50-foot addition to the automobile shed.

According to J. Robert Bryson, secretary, an attempt is being made to obtain midway concessions that are as clean as possible this year, eliminating the type of attractions that have drawn fire from many sources in the past. Several free attractions will also be booked, one of these being

George W. Holverstott, Xenia resident, died Monday afternoon at four thirty o'clock, death being caused by the infirmities of age. Mr. Holverstott was past ninety-five years of age.

He is survived by two sons, Albert Holverstott, and F. L. Holverstott, both of Xenia. Funeral services will be conducted Thursday at one o'clock, at the home of H. C. Holverstott, at 231 East Third street. Interment will be made at Beaver Cemetery.

POLICE IDENTIFY MAN'S ASSAILANTS

Berlin, July 5.—The police have definitely identified the assassins of Dr. Walter Rathenau, who was murdered June 24, they announced yesterday, the list containing one change from that first announced on June 28. The names on the police list are: Ernest Werner Techow, of Berlin, student, 24; Erwin Tern, former first lieutenant of marines, 23, and Hermann Wilibald Fischer, engineer, 26.

Of the three Techow, alleged to be the driver of the murder car, arrested near Frankfort-on-Oder, June 30, is so far the only one apprehended.

One of the men arrested in connection with the attack yesterday on Maximilian Harden, noted editor and political writer, is named Weichardt, the police announced today. Herr Harden was attacked late yesterday near his home in the runewald, a suburb of Berlin, and was taken to his home unconscious, suffering from five wounds in the head.

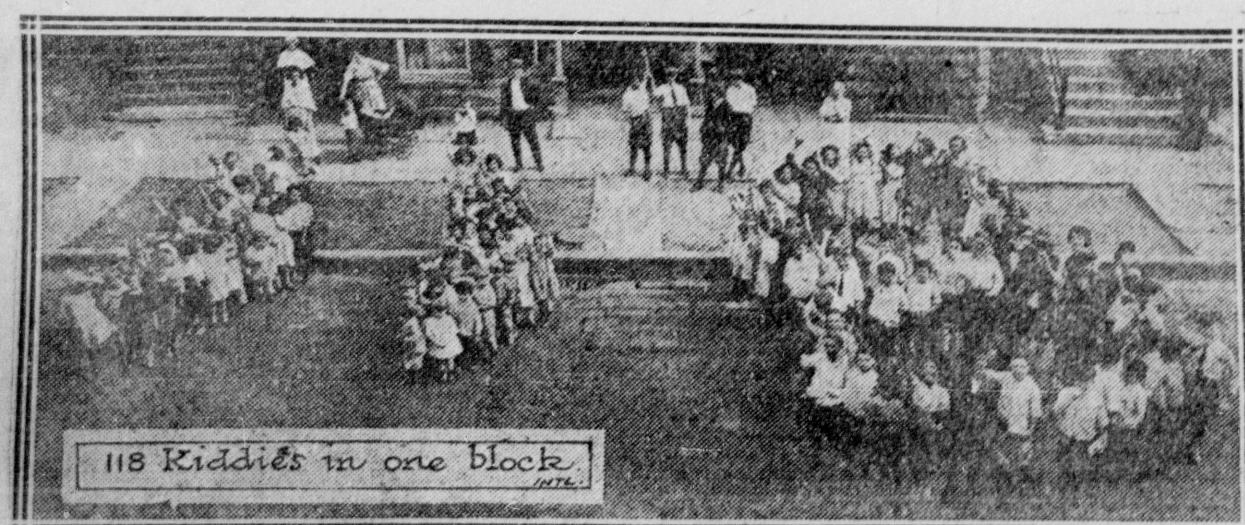

CONSTERNATION FOLLOWS ESCAPE OF TRUANT STORK

Cincinnati, July 5.—A stork escaped from the Cincinnati zoo Tuesday and flew innocently up over a negro settlement in Avondale, spreading consternation among the dusky women who saw he meant to light there. The zoo manager and his assistants arrived out of breath after the truant to find things in a hubub and the women trying to "shoo" the long-legged visitor on his way.

"Take dat stork away from heah," one of them implored, "we done got too many chillen now."

The stork was captured and carried back, the superstitious blacks shrinking from his presence as if the plague were passing. One of them later sprinkled ashes about the house where the bird landed, chanting to herself, "Dat stork done conjured dis here place, and I aims to break the spell." She finished her counter magic by nailing a rabbit's foot on the doorstep.

FOURTH PASSED IN QUIET MANNER IN XENIA TUESDAY

ELECTRICS SPLIT DOUBLE HEADER AT PARK ON TUESDAY

The Bayliff Electrics split a double header with two Dayton teams as the Fourth of July attraction at the Washington St. Ball Park Tuesday, losing to the Dayton Westwoods in the opener by a 4 to 1 score, and winning from the Belmont Merchants 7 to 6 in the second encounter.

Bill Kontz, of Springfield, former Kenna Reserve hurler, was on the mound for the electricans in the first game and his stumps gave the visitors no end of trouble. Koontz struck out 10 of the opposing armful, and permitted only six hits. Placing their few hits well and taking advantage of a couple of costly errors, the visitors managed to come out on top end of the count.

The visitors scored first in the second, when after two were out, Evans was walked. He stole second, and scored when Shepp doubled to right. The visitors added another in the third. Burley was safe when Derrick muffed his grounder, with one out. House fanned but Burley scored when E. Owens dropped Smith's long fly to left.

Two more were added by the Westwoods in the fourth. Koontz allowed but three hits during the rest of the game and the locals played air tight ball. The electricans' lone run that saved them from a shut out came in the fourth stanza. Derrick was safe on a slow throw, and took second on a passed ball, but was nipped Shepp to Burley at third. M. Leahay walked and was safe at second on the double steal when Burley's attempt to double him at the keystone station went wild, Leahay taking third and scoring on Bocklet's single.

Shepp pitched masterly ball for the Westwoods, permitting but four hits, two of which came in the seventh in connection with a base on balls, but were fruitless.

The locals had a better edge in the second game, in which they defeated the Belmont team 7 to 6 in a seven inning contest. Anxious to get an early lead in the short contest, the locals hung up two counters in the initial frame.

The visitors added one in the fourth when Stockman was safe on an error and Pepper was safe when Bocklet dropped Cooper's assist on his roller. Stockman then scoring on a wild throw. The Belmont athletes added three more in the sixth.

The visitors tied it up at six, all in their half of the seventh. McMichael was safe on an error, and H. Green was safe when Bath's assist went wild. McMichael scored when Bocklet retired Powell unassisted and Stockman's single scored Greene, but Stockman was out when struck b y a batted ball. The locals won the game in their half of the ninth. Bocklet was safe when Myers dropped his pop fly and stole second. Berger fanned, but F. Leahay broke up the ball game at this juncture with a double to left that scored Bocklet.

Styles BY LENORE

In the summertime one may as well as not be a pleasant part of the landscape, thought this maiden, and so she wears this very smart two-piece costume of crepe marocain, the skirt white, the blouse orchid color. And a very practical outfit it is, for the same skirt may be used with several blouses in different materials—crepe for wear both in town and the country, wool jersey for sea-shore, and a dainty lace or Georgette blouse for dinner wear informally.

Attention is called to the cut of the blouse, which is designed with the fashionably low waistline, slightly bloused at the sides, and snugly fitted around the hips. The skirt is pleated only in the front.

Shields had been beaten, shot and robbed by highwaymen and is in a serious condition.

NOODLES IN THE SUPPER MENU

I wonder how many of my Reader Friends serve noodles for supper? I know of no more delicious or nourishing supper dish than noodles served either with a plain cream sauce, an egg sauce, a cheese sauce, or a tomato sauce. The eggs in the noodles make this dish rich and substantial, and a well-balanced meal may be achieved by following this menu:

Egg Noodles with Sauce. Corn Muffins. Coca Diced, Sweetened Fruit Nut Cake.

Egg Noodles: Beat two eggs slightly and stir into them one teaspoon of salt. Then add enough flour to make a very stiff dough. knead a little, and toss on a lightly floured board. Roll to the thickness of paste-board and let stand to dry, for 20 minutes. Then roll the thin sheet like a jelly-roll and slice this roll, across, into strips one-half-inch wide. Boil these strips for 20 minutes in boiling salted water, drain, and serve mixed with one of the following sauces:

Plain Cream Noodle Sauce: Melt two tablespoons of butter in a saucepan and add to it, alternately, two tablespoons of flour and one cup of rich sweet milk. Season with one-fourth teaspoon of salt and a dash of pepper.

Egg Noodle Sauce: Melt two tablespoons of butter and rub into it three tablespoons of flour, thinning the mixture with one cup of sweet milk. Season with one-fourth teaspoon of salt and a dash of pepper. Then stir in two hard-boiled eggs cut in thin slices.

Cheese Sauce for Noodles: Melt three tablespoons of butter, stir in four tablespoons of flour, two cups of sweet milk, one-half teaspoon of salt and when this has boiled up for a moment, remove it from the range and add one cup of finely-chopped American cheese, stirring until the cheese melts or partly melts. Combine this sauce at once with the noodles.

Tomato Noodle Sauce: Press one and one-half cups of stewed tomato through a sieve and turn these into a saucepan with a small piece of onion, one-half teaspoon of salt and one whole clove. Let this cook for ten minutes. In another saucepan melt one heaping tablespoon of butter and rub into it one tablespoon of flour. Then add this flour and butter mixture to the tomato mixture and let simmer for four minutes. Strain and serve with the noodles in it.

In serving noodles in any of these four sauces, allow one cup of the sauce to two and one-half cups of the cooked noodles.

Noodles need not necessarily be cooked the day they are mixed and cut into strips. Instead, the uncooked

CHAPTER 9

Nellie was curiously naive in some ways, uncommonly sophisticated in others. Cora felt sure she would soon become invaluable if she got a position, her quick grasp of things, her willingness to please, her determination to be in an office, all encouraged both Cora and Gladys into believing she would surely make good if she got a chance.

Gladys had spoken to Miss McBride, the woman who kept the agency, but had received little encouragement.

"Nowadays men don't want girls without experience," she told Gladys. "I could get around the references—from what you tell me of this girl, but not the lack of experience. Of course I will try to place her, but if I should succeed her wages will be very small at first."

"Get her anything you can," Gladys returned, "Miss Baker and I will help her out until she can earn enough to live on."

"You seem very fond of her."

"We are, both of us. She's the brightest little thing, and so pretty—too pretty Cora thinks. She's rather impudent too sometimes. If anyone says anything she doesn't like she gets back at them like lightning. But she's good, and won't stand any nonsense. She's had a hard life in a cheap boarding house where traveling men stopped, and has learned a lot of things about life by listening to their coarse talk."

But a girl who had to work as hard as she did, then teaches herself to use a typewriter all alone in a stuffy attic, is bound to get on we think."

"I'm getting interested in this protege of ours. You say Miss Baker has been teaching her for three months?"

"Yes, shorthand and spelling. The poor child doesn't spell at all. But she can now. I never saw anyone go in earnest as she is."

"Well, I will do my best, but don't ing them monkey faces at me? You should have heard the people laugh. He sneaked out at the next stop."

"I should think he would." Both girls laughed heartily. "Now tell us about the job. Everything! We are so anxious to hear all about it."

"Well, here goes!"

Tomorrow—Nellie Tells of Securing a Position.

DIDN'T HAVE THE HEART

Elyria, July 5.—"It was a lovely day and the pavement looked so nice that I guess I did travel 30 miles an hour." said pretty Miss Helen Van der Pyl, daughter of Dr. Nicholas Van Der Pyl, pastor of the United Church at Oberlin, who is attending an economic school in England. The police judge gave her the once over, tried to look her in the eye, and muttered discharged."

"Your brother and sisters are growing up, they'll soon be able to help, Cora encouraged. It was discouraging to work as hard as Gladys did and send all she earned home, save enough to feed and clothe herself—the last as cheaply as possible. Gladys was a good looking girl with a strong capable face but a serious girl, too serious for her age. When Cora told her so she answered:

"I've never had anything to make me anything else."

"Hip—hip—hurrah!" Nellie came into the room where the two girls sat talking like a whirlwind. She grabbed Cora and kissed her, then pulled Gladys from her chair and waltzed her furiously about the room.

"What's the matter? Do stop and let me get my breath," Gladys pleaded.

"Matter! I've got a job, that's all!" she whirled her more furiously than before. "Little Nellie has a job and can earn her way! Gee, but aren't I happy!" she sank in a heap on the floor, dragging Gladys, now quite breathless, down with her.

"Quiet down, Nellie, and tell us all about it," Cora said as soon as she could stop laughing. "What kind of a place, and who with?"

"Wait a minute, Cora! I can't talk yet. I came near yelling for joy in the subway. I guess I must have looked awful tickled, because everybody I looked at grinned at me. One fellow thought he could flirt, but he got me. I just asked him if he was making out."

"Well, I will do my best, but don't
